To Whom It May Concern:

I have been producing various types of special events for over ten years. I have had the opportunity to work with Beth Stephenson on several of these events in the last two years, and can honestly say that she is among the best event producers I've had the pleasure to work with.

Beth is creative and has the ability to come up with solutions to all sorts of issues – and many ways to execute these solutions. She knows how to work within our budget and, frankly, often saves us money.

Added to this is Beths' truly pleasant and collaborative manner. She knows how to listen and she knows how to work with an array of clients and vendors. She truly becomes a member of your team!

I highly recommend Beth for Rising Female Star!

Best Regards,
